JDR Solutions CIO to lead conference session

INDIANAPOLIS – Doug Williams, chief information officer for JDR Solutions (www.jdrsolutions.com), will lead a panel discussion on custom Web portals during Connection Point 2015, the annual conference of International Decision Systems. The conference takes place Sept. 21-23 in Minneapolis. JDR Solutions offers IDS' InfoLease software.

The session, titled "Using Web Services to Create a Customer Portal – The Xerox Story," takes place at 2:15 p.m. on the conference's opening day. Xerox is a JDR Solutions customer. Williams will be joined on stage by Tom Lyle and Brett Thompson, general manager and operations manager of Xerox Financial Services, respectively.

"We'll talk about why Xerox needed a portal for people to access their InfoLease data and customer invoices, and why they needed the ability to create what they call 'return authorization letters,'" Williams said. "While Tom and Brett will talk about the specifics of their business case, I will talk about the underlying technical code of the Web service interface."

JDR Solutions is an Indianapolis-based provider of equipment finance portfolio management software and services.
